Ten acting police sergeants, every one in the city, for that matter, appeared simultaneously at the office of Chief clark at the instance of Commissioner Manning. which step being taken after consulting with Mr. Landerkin and Mr. Besher, who also happened to be on the spot.

The officors are apparently greatly puzzled at the affair, while the commissioners do not care to discuss it. They did admit that a brief subcommittee meeting was held to investigate a matter of no public interest, but the nature of this uninteresting affair was not given out for publication.

FOR CIVIL SERVICE.

But regardless of the apparent mystery surrounding, the affair and the reticence of the commissioner it is rumored among the members of the department that the Board is contemplating the introduction of quite an important custom, which berders largely on a civil service basis for the force.

It has been learned that at a recent meeting of commissioners, on motion of Mr. Manning, a resolution authorizing the appointment of a special committee to put the acting sergeants through a vigorous examination, was adopted. Named on this committee, it is understood, were Messrs, Manning, Bosher and Londerkin, the same gentlemen who held the conference yesterday afternoon. As a result the inference is that this conference was for the purpose of discussing the mest advisable course to pursue in the general examination.

A MISUNDERSTANDING.

It appears that Mr. Manning was under the impression that the examination was to have taken place yesterday afternoon, as a consequence of which he had the acting sergeants summoned to appear. But he reckoned without his hest, for the other two members of the special committee entertained entirely different views. They could not understand how it happened that the members of heart was contained to appear. MATTER OF PROMOTION.

It is he idea of the Beard to ascertain by the fairest means possible just which of the acting sergeants is best fit for premotion to a higher position in the event one occurs. The man who turns in the best examination paper—the questions will have to be answered in writing and under the eye of the committee—will be placed first on the list of promotables, and se on down.

The cuestions will be thorough, dealing with such criminal law as a policeman should know, the rights of an officer of the law under this or that situation. Handwitting will cut quite a figure in the siming up, for the Board is anxious that the books of the different stations shall be legible.

ACTING SERGEANTS.

Present at headquarters yesterday afternoon were the following acting sergents, who will be affected by the determination of the Board:

Officers Weiner and Brown, First Distrist; Officers Wiltshire, Farley, E. J. Bradley and Wyatt, Second District; Officers Wiltshire, Farley, E. J. Bradley and Wyatt, Second District; Officers Tyler, Amos, McMuhon and Marical Third District.

In the event the new system works as it is expected to with the acting sergeants, the general force of privates will probably be put through a similar test, while all applicants for positions in the department will be required to pass a mental as well as physical examination.

Speech for the Miners.

Chairman Gray, of the Commission. Expressed Regret at Parting With Counsel, and Congratulated Each Side on Good Feeling.

(By Associated Press.) + PHILADET, PHIA, PA., February 18.-The Anthracite Coal Strike Commission, being in session for more three months, opened its hearing here to-day with an all-day argument by Clarence Darrow on behalf of the min-ers. The commission will meet in secret in Washington next Thursday, and begin the consideration of its awards. It is said that by the end of this month the arbitrators will be ready to make their announcement.

If an increase in wages is determined upon the increase is to date from the first of last November, the commission having decided upon that date on October 3ist. After the session to-day the commission held a short conference with the lawyers for the several sides and asked them to hold themselves in readiness in case they are called upon by the commission.

The crowd that heard Mr. Darrow speak to-day was fully as great as that which listened to Mr. Baer and Mr. Darrow speak to-day was fully as great as that which listened to Mr. Baer and Mr. Darrow yesterday. He took up the entire time of both sessions—five and one-half hours. He touched upon almost every phase of the strike, and when he closed he was greeted with long applause, which Chairman Gray did not suppress. President Mitchell was in court all day, but did not have anything to say.

Mr. Darrow first discussed the cause of the strike. The responsibility for the coal famine, he said, rested with those who were responsible for the strike. If the men struck without just reason, then they were responsible for the full find minded enough to see the justness of their claims, then the latter were responsible for the trouble. He believed the strike was due to the "blind, autocratic, stupid spirit of the operators. They believed the issue was who should be the master—the operators or the men. I say neither should be the master of the other."

be the master—the operators or the men. I say neither should be the master of the other."

Taking up Mr. Baer's sliding scale proposition made yesterdey, Mr. Darrow said the one per cent. raise on five cents suggested by Mr. Baer would give the operators an increase of three and one-half per cent. in profits and the miners only one and one-half per cent on the $4.50 basis. Mr. Darrow's remarks on the proposition planly indicated that the miners flatly reject the proposition.

TRIED TO AVOID STRIKE.

Mr. Darrow asserted that the miners resorted to every means to avert a strike. Every appeal and every prayer of the men, he said, was contemptously rejected by the operators.

Mr. Darrow said it was a wonder after the operators had insolently and cruelly rejected the requests of the men that there was not more violence in the coal region. He paid a tribute to the miners, whom he said were warm-hearted emotional, sympathetic and religious.

Mr. Darrow then took up the thirteen evictions on the Markle property, and in language that was extremely strong he pictured the eviction of a sick wife and of a blind woman 100 years old. "You may roll together all the cruelty and violence committed in the anthractic region," he exclaimed, "and you cannot equal the flendish cruelty of John Markle when he turned these people into the streets simply to satisfy his hellish hate."

NO EFFORT TO SHIRK.
Regarding the demand for eight hours as a day, Mr. Darrow said;
"This is not a demand to shirk work, as is often claimed to be the case. It is a demand for the right of the individual to have a better life, a fuller life, a completer life, and this, like everything else, depends upon your point of view. There is only one standpoint from which you have the right to approach this question, and that it what will make the best men, the best American citizens, to build up a nation in which there will be no more strikes, no more violence."

After the long appliance which was accorded Mr. Darrow, Mr. Gray, the chairman, said:

"It is due to counsel and to those who represented both sides that I should say that we leave you, or rather you leave us, with a feeling on our part of regret that the long association which has been so pleasant to us is about to be broken. It speaks well for counsel

"The work is now over, and I know that we have your best wishes that we may have a safe and righteous deliverance."

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ROXBURY, VA., Feb. 13.—A young man at this place tells of an experience he had a few days ago, and marks on his person prove the story true. He asy shis father and mother went to Richmond one day last week and left him and his sister to keep house. Their home is near Binn's Hall. He says a young man called on his sister one evening. To be sociable, he sat up until 10 o'clock. The young man said nothing about going. He began to get sleepy, and asked to be excused, which was done willingly. In order to know the exact hour the young man left, that he might report to his parents, he devised a plan that worked well. He secured a cord, tied it to the front door, then carried it into his bed-room and tied the other ends to his ear, so that when the door was opened it would pull the string and wake him. When the young man left, hurriedly it seems, the door was swung open with such force and the cord pulled with such force and the cord pulled with such force that the young man had his car nearly severed from his hand. His cries brought the young lovers in haste to his bedside.

They were pitiful in the extreme. Now he says they can stay up as long at they please. No more cord is to be tied to his ear.
